Pulse for Humane Solutions

Pulse for Humane Solutions (PoSH) is an international non-profit association operating in the fields of sustainable development, humanitarian action, and peacebuilding. PoSH is established based on the "Triple Nexus" principle.

The "Triple Nexus" Principle: Definition and Application:

The "Triple Nexus" principle represents the interlinkage between three sectors: humanitarian action, development and peacebuilding. This approach aims to enhance cooperation and coordination among actors of these sectors to ensure a comprehensive and sustainable crisis response.

Humanitarian

Humanitarian action provides immediate relief to communities impacted by conflict and natural disasters, focusing on essentials like food, water, shelter, basic healthcare, and protection.

Sustainable Development

Sustainable development aims to address the root causes of poverty by providing economic opportunities, education and furthering human rights and healthy institutions.

Peacebuilding

Peacebuilding seeks to enhance peace and stability through conflict transformation and strengthening rule of law and peaceful coexistence among different societal groups.

Our Mission

To provide a comprehensive and effective crisis response in conflict zones, areas affected by natural disasters, and refugee-hosting countries, focusing on delivering sustainable solutions that meet human and developmental needs.

Our Work:

- Peacebuilding, Mediation and Conflict Resolution
- Psychosocial support for men, women, boys and girls
- Transition from emergency relief to sustainable development to achieve self-sufficiency.
- Community Development and Capacity Building via training and awareness raising.
